A Brief Report on Seven Day Capacity Building and Skill Enhancement Programme for Students and Teachers

PART - II

A meeting was convened on 01.06.2020 of faculty and administrative staff by IQAC in order to conduct the said programme for students and teachers to inculcate soft skills. Accordingly it was decided to have a one week programme inviting participants from across the country. The programme was conducted from 13th June 2020 to 19th June 2020. This virtual programme was conducted on WebEx digital platform. It was also decided to invite eminent resource persons both from academics and corporate organizations. A panel of resource persons was formed comprising seven members.

The seven day programme was coordinated by Sri. Virupaksha Shastri and Dr. Basavaraj S. Naraboli after due correspondence with all the resource persons the registration process took place.

It is hearting to learn that, there was a resounding response from Participants across the country. In Toto there were 456 teachers who registered and attended and got their certificate and 87 students from our college had participated and obtained their certificates.

It is indeed a matter of pride that faculty of different streams across the country had joined the programme. It was a Pan India participation as teachers from 28 states had participated in this seven day programme.

The outcome this programme was evaluated by the participants by using the yard sticks to measure the content of the programme, delivery and presentation skills of the resource persons including the relevance of the topics. A detailed result of the feedback is included in this compilation through pie charts.

The overall assessment be it content wise, competency of resource persons and technical aspects and over all organizations are found to be excellent.

All the eminent resource persons have not only delivered their lecture and made their presentations in a most professional way but also clarified the queries raised by participants through chat box.

Our technical experts Dr. Basavaraj S. Naraboli and Sri. Virupaksha Shastri did a commendable job as they not only conducted the programme efficiently for seven days but also has made a live telecast of the same on Facebook and all the seven day programme lecturers were uploaded to YouTube channel.

I profusely thank the IQAC Coordinator Dr. S. T. Sulepetkar, Academic Coordinator Dr. T. V. Biradar, all the heads of the department, Event Coordinators Dr. Basavaraj S. Naraboli and Sri. Virupaksha Shastri

A GLANCE AT THE SANGHA: Sharanabasaveshwar Vidya Vardhaka Sangha Kalaburgi, was founded in 1903 by the VII Maha Dasoha Peethadhipathi when Nizam and British political clout was strong in this part of the country. The institution was established with a noble vision of rendering service to humanity. The sangha is steered by the present President and VIII Maha Dasoha Peethadhipati Poojya Dr. Sharnbaswappa Appaji, Chancellor, Sharnbasva University, who is rightly known as 'Icon of Dasoha & Education', he has transformed Kalaburgi into a hub of educational activities. By the stewardship of our President, today, the management runs more than 80 institutions culminating into the establishment of Sharnbasava University.

GLIMPSES OF SCIENCE COLLEGE: Sharanabasaveshwar College of Science was started in 1956. This institution is one of the earliest science Colleges in this Hyderabad-Karnatak region. Over the years, it has become one of the prestigious institutions. This institution is located on a hill-lock covering an area of about 4-acres. Sharanabasaveshwar College of Science functions under the aegis of Sharanabasaveshwar Vidya Vardhak Sangha which was founded by Late Poojya Doddappa Appa. The college provides education to students from rural and marginalized sections on Dasoha Philosophy. It provides relevant and job oriented curriculum with a motto of "Service unto others" and developing leadership and self-discipline among students. It is equipped with all infrastructure facilities with an excellent teaching and learning ambience.

KALABURGI IN WORDS: Now a days Kalaburgi is a destination of every tourist who visits Northern Karnataka, as Poojya Appaji rightly remarked, Kalaburgi has 'three eyes' Sharanabasaveshwara, Khwaja Banda Nawaz and Budha Vihar, heralding the message of amity and co-existence of people of composite culture in perfect harmony and joy. Kalaburgi is centrally located at an equal distance from both Bengaluru and Mumbai and is well connected by road and rail routes. The city is known as a land of 'Tur-dal' and has many historical places nearby, which are worth visiting, viz. Basavakalyan, Bidar, Ghanapur, Vijayapur, Sholapur and Raichur situated around 150km distance. The majestic fort of Gulab Chand located adjacent to Sharnbasaveshwar shrine is a tourist alluring point.

THEME OF THE PROGRAMME: In the present scenario the increased importance of Soft skills, Communications skills and Life skills has compelled Higher Education Institutions to train students and also the young teachers to infuse such skills. Hence, it is planned to organize a seven day Capacity building and Empowerment Programme for our college students and also teachers who wish to join this programme from other parts of the country. In order to facilitate our students and teachers to take part in this programme, they can register and join themselves online through Zoom App.

PLATO & OTHERS SAID

→ Wise men talk because they have something to say; fools, because they have to say something – Plato

→ Think like a wise man but communicate in the language of the people – W. B. Yeats

→ The single largest problem in communication is the illusion that it has taken place – G. B. Shaw

→ We have two ears and one mouth so that we can listen twice as much as we speak – Epictetus

Information is giving out; communication is getting through – S. J. Harris

Good communication is as stimulating as black coffee, and just as hard to sleep after. – Anne M. L.

Communication is also known as people skills/ soft skills

CONTD...

7 c's of effective communication

- completeness,
- conciseness,
- consideration,
- clarity,
- correctness,
- courtesy,
- concreteness,
- Communications skills

- Wisdom is the reward for a life time of listening
- Who speaks,sows:-who listens,reaps- Argentine Proverb
- Courage is what it takes to stand up and speak:-Courage is also what it takes to sit down and listen.

COMMUNICATION - MEANING

- Communication is a dynamic process,
- Through this process we convey a thought or feeling to someone else.
- How it is received depends on a set of events, stimuli, that person is exposed to.
- How we say plays an important role in communication.

COMMUNICATION TYPES

- On the basis of organization relationships – formal, informal
- On the basis of flow-vertical, crosswise, diagonal, horizontal
- On the basis of expression, oral, written, gesture
- Communication goals – to change behavior, to get action, to ensure understanding, to persuade, to get and give information

PURPOSE OF COMMUNICATION

- Establish goals
- Develop plans for achievement of goals
- To effect change, internal functioning and influence action
- Organize human and other resources in a most effective and efficient ways
- Lead, direct, motivate and create a climate in which people want to contribute

HISTORY OF ORAL COMMUNICATION

- Speech was developed about 1.7 Million years ago.
- Symbols were developed about 30,000 years ago.
- Writing was developed about 7,000 years ago.
- Evolution of the brain differentiated humans from animals, as among other things it allowed humans to master a very efficient form of communication - speech

STATISTICAL EXPRESSION

We remember best

- What we heard recently,
- Most often,
- Things presented dramatically
- And that have a use for us.
- We communicate with help of vocabulary by 7%
- By voice inflections 38%
- By non verbal behavior 55%

COMMUNICATION

- Basically communication can be considered as a personal process that involves the transfer of information. Communication is something people do. It does not exist without people taking some form of action.
- Inter-personal communication is essential in our day-to-day life, be it in a class-room, an office, social context or in a family environment.

ORAL COMMUNICATION

- In general oral communication refers to interaction between two people, representing their respective families or groups or organizations but oral communication basically demands at least two persons. this is also known as the dyadic communication.
- Oral communication may be in different forms. It may exist in the form of face-to-face communication or through video conferencing/teleconferencing or voice mailing. Oral communication is basically different from written communications.

ADVANTAGES OF ORAL COMMUNICATION

- It is a most frequently used means of communication, as it has many advantages, they are:
- It gives immediate feedback, people listening can ask questions, make comments, add their thoughts, and both speaker and listener can indulge in dialogues and make the communication successful.
- Oral communication paves way for healthy climate in the organization by bringing together the superior and the subordinate, meetings can be more successful in this way.

CONTD...

- It saves time, while written communication takes more time.
- The oral communication is a useful tool for an effective persuasion, lending personal touch. it helps more in negotiations. written communication cannot achieve the goals of oral negotiations.
- Oral communication is also economical in terms of money and time.
- Oral communication enables the speaker suitably change his words, tone, pitch etc. unlike in written communication.

Verbal Stresses:

- I didn't SAY – you were stupid
- I didn't say – YOU were stupid
- I didn't say you were STUPID

NON-VERBAL COMMUNICATION

In the non-verbal communication we don't send symbols attaching meaning as we did in verbal communication.

The non-verbal communication takes place through the body language.

It may be either through hands, fingers, movement of body, nodding of head, facial expression, posture, gestures, countenances, sauntering, walking briskly, or walking with drooped shoulders, wearing a gloomy look, red eyes, torn clothes, neat dressing, biting nails, field signals and traffic signals.

- So, in non-verbal communication we express our feelings or thoughts through what we do and act but not by words.
- Nonverbal :audience awareness, personal presentation, body language
- Para verbal messages : it refers to messages that we transmit through the tone, pitch, and pacing of our voices

Positive non-verbal communications

- Smiling,
- Eye-contact ,
- How you look,
- Shaking hands.
- Written :
- Academic writing,
- Revision and auditing,
- Critical reading,
- Presentation of data.

BODY LANGUAGE

➤When we use body language we effectively communicate our attitudes, moods, and indifferences, our positive or negative feelings.

➤ We seek these symbols in countenance, eyes, physical movement of body and posture.

➤ If the body language is properly understood, perhaps half of the communication is almost over.

➤Hence body language has a great practical use, when we are interacting face to face, our facial expressions speak louder than words.

➤Whether it is indifference, compromise, frustration, joy, surprise, eagerness, our smiles, frowning, biting lips, communicate more than we wish to communicate.

➤ As long as our body language is not genuine there could not be communication at all. As Shakespeare says, one can smile and smile, yet be a villain, hence the need of genuine feelings.

➤ In dyadic communication eye contact is very essential, a confident speaker keeps eye contact for a considerable period of time unlike the one who is not so confident, who wishes to take away his eyes off immediately for further embarrassment.

PRESENTATION

- Presentation is nothing but expressing a thought, an idea or giving a lecture before an audience orally on a specific occasion. You may be asked on occasions to present your reports orally and to take part in meetings, conferences, panel discussions and seminars.
- Oral – presentation, audience awareness, critical listening, body language
- An effective speaker will enhance his prestige and influence the decisions.
- When an oral presentation is made do not concentrate and worry about whether your audience is going to like it, instead focus whether you will offer useful information to the audience.
- Knowing audience is the most important element of a successful speech or presentation.

TOTAL COMMUNICATION PROCESS

COMMUNICATION PERCENTAGE

- 7% WORDS
  - Words are only labels and the listeners put their own interpretation on speakers words
- 38% PARALINGUISTIC
  - The way in which something is said - the accent, tone and voice modulation are important to the listener.
- 55% BODY LANGUAGE
  - What a speaker looks like while delivering a message affects the listener's understanding most.

BARRIERS IN COMMUNICATION

- Disagreement between verbal and non-verbal messages
- Negative Self-Image
- Lack of Feedback
- Lack of Motivation and Training
- Language and Vocabulary Level
- Lack of Self Awareness, Selective Perception
- Unwillingness to Change
- Lack of Interest in the Topic/Subject
- Prejudice & Belief System
- Rebuttal Instincts
- Personal Value System

EXTERNAL BARRIERS IN COMMUNICATION

- Environment
- The venue
- The effect of noise
- Temperature in the room
- Other People – Status, Education
- Time

COMMUNICATING TIME

In communication process approximately we spend

- 16% reading
- 9% writing
- 39% talking
- 45% listening – they may vary from percent to percent and from person to person
- In communication be successful than to be right.
- Speak, pause and listen.

LISTENING DYNAMICS

- what is listening? In simple terms, it is an understanding and a comprehension.
- But listening is a joint enterprise of both listener and the speaker.
- Man has a tendency to listen to only those things which he likes. Sometimes he might listen to music, chirruping and nestling sounds of the birds with great satisfaction.
- But listening to others is an act to be done throughout the life
- Listening is a serious activity so we must prepare ourselves both emotionally and psychologically.
- We spend 45% of our time listening.
- A good communicator is a good listener.
- An average person speaks at about a rate of 150 words per minute and can hear 1000 words per minute.
- There are two types of listening, active listening and passive listening.
- Passive listening is little more than hearing when a listener has no interest intensely like listening to music, television etc.
- Listening is a dynamic activity of interpersonal communication. It is said that "with words we govern men, if properly listened".

CONTD...

- Listening is not a mechanical process. It is an intense use of mind that does the act of listening.
- We may force the listener physically, but not psychologically.
- Most of the errors of the listeners are due to improper listening or so to say, they only hear but not listen.
- Listening is the basic step in learning.
- But listening is not a blind act; we all make conscious decisions on whether to listen, to half listen, or to ignore communications from others.
- Poor listening is an interpersonal communication barrier.
- To listen well to others we begin by listening to ourselves.
- Listen appreciatively, so that the other person knows you are listening and feels that he is being helped.
- Listening is a dynamic activity, which helps for the self-growth and healthy relationships with others.

CHECK TO SEE IF YOU HAVE ANY OF THE FOLLOWING BARRIERS

- I usually think of this class as boring.
- I didn't really understand the lecture but asking questions is not my job.
- I pretended to be paying attention.
- I didn't like the instructor's mannerisms(e.g. pacing, phrasing, cough).
- I didn't like the instructor's mannerisms(e.g. pacing, phrasing, cough).
- I tried to make notes on everything which was said in class
- The subject for this class was too difficult for me.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

- If you are really listening intently, you should feel tired after your speaker has finished. Effective listening is an active rather than a passive activity.
- When you find yourself drifting away during a listening session, change your body position.
- Your body position defines whether you will have the chance of being a good listener or a good deflector. Good listeners are like poor boxers: they lead with their faces.

BARRIERS CONTD...

- ENVIRONMENTAL BARRIERS Loud sounds , activities carried on by nearby people, Interruption from others, Physical discomforts,
PSYCHOLOGICAL BARRIERS : Deafness, Blindness, Learning Disability Illness.
- LANGUAGE BARRIERS: different language, specific terminology,
- PERSONAL BARRIERS, socio-economic conditions, values and beliefs, previous experiences, not valuing themselves, not believing that their health is important, Premature evolution, inattention, loss of transmission and poor retention, undue reliance on the written word, distrust of communication, failure to communicate
- SEMANTIC BARRIERS symbols with different meaning, badly expressed message, faulty translation, unclear assumption, specialists language
- PSYCHOLOGICAL BARRIERS, stress, frustration, anger, tiredness, distracted perception, preoccupied notions
- PERSONAL BARRIERS : attitude of superior, fear of challenge of authority, lack of time, lack of awareness, barriers in subordinates, unwillingness to communicate,
- ORGANIZATION BARRIERS : organization policy, rules and regulation, status relation, complexity in organization, lack of proper incentive
Encoding barriers - lack of sensitivity to receiver, lack of basic communication skills, insufficient knowledge of the subject, emotional interference, lacking confidence
- TRANSMITTING BARRIERS -physical distractions, channel barriers, long communication chain
- DECODING BARRIERS : lack of interest, lack of knowledge, lack of communicative skills, emotional distractions, information overload, conflicting messages

OVERCOMING THE BARRIERS OF EFFECTIVE COMMUNICATION

- Connecting with the audience,
- Simple words,
- Body language,
- Smile,
- Eye contact,
- Tone,
- Gestures,
- Cultural sensitivity,
- Checking for understanding,
- Seeking participation,
- Effective questions,
- Summarizing what has been said,

WE ARE BORN TO SEE, BUT HAVE TO TRAIN OURSELVES TO OBSERVE.

To be successful...

- Implementing effective communication
- Choosing the right environment
- Using language appropriate to your audience
- Being balanced in your thinking   curtailing excessive use of humor   avoiding the usage of controversial language.

Communication failure can cause:

- Dissatisfaction with others.
- Lowered morale.
- Loss of team spirit.
- Conflicts and arguments.
- Drop in self esteem and confidence.
- Loss of friendship.

Why communication is important?

- Inspires confidence.
- Builds respecting business and social life.
- Helps make friends.   Develops a distinct personality.   Reveals your ability to others.

LEVELS OF LISTENING

- The Non-Listener
- The Marginal Listener
- The Evaluative Listener
- The Active Listener

IMPROVING LISTENING SKILLS

- By not being Preoccupied
- Being Open Minded & Non Defensive
- Minimizing Interruptions
- Effective Listening is: Hearing, interpreting when necessary, understanding the message and relating to it.
- By Asking Questions

TRAITS OF ACTIVE LISTENERS

- Spend more time in listening than talking.
- Do not complete sentences of others.
- Do not answer questions with questions.
- Do not indulge in their thoughts while listening.
- Do not hinder the conversations.
- Give response only when asked for.
- Do not jump to conclusions
- Show great patience even in disagreeable stages
- Avoid emotional involvement.
- Focus on content, not delivery.

Topic: Leadership, Empathy and Improved Office Culture.

A Talk on

Leadership Empathy & Improved Office Culture

WELCOME TO ONE AND ALL

Presented by: Shushma Patil

Content writer: Cognizant.co

Leadership

- ▶ The question of what makes a good leader or what are leadership skills is widely debated.
- ▶ Leadership means different things to different people around the world, and different things in different situations. For example, it could relate to community leadership, religious leadership, political leadership, and leadership in an organization, etc.,
- ▶ Leaders help themselves and others to do the right things. They set direction, build an inspiring vision, and create something new.
- ▶ Leadership is about streamlining where you need to go to "win" as a team or as an organization.
- ▶ The strongest organizations and groups usually tend to permit and actively encourage each member of the group or organization to take the lead at the appropriate point.
- ▶ In contrast organizations and families with particularly controlling and patriarchal leaders, tend to be fairly dysfunctional.

- ▶ How is the concept of being a leader different from being a manager. You may have heard that 'leaders do the right thing, and managers do things right' – Professor Warren G. Bennis.
- ▶ This is a fairly delicate distinction, and many leaders are also managers (and vice versa).
- ▶ Perhaps the key difference is that leaders are expected to create and communicate a compelling vision, often associated with change. Managers, on the other hand, are perhaps more often associated with maintaining the status quo.
- ▶ The main difference between leaders and managers is that leaders have people follow them while managers have people who work for them.
- ▶ A successful head of an organization or a business needs to be a balanced version of both.
- ▶ Leadership itself can't be taught, but there are a number of core skills that most good leaders have. These skills can be learnt.

Skills Good Leaders Need:

♦ Strategic Thinking

- Good strategic thinking must be based on evidence, and that means being able to gather and analyze information from a wide range of sources.
- This is not purely about numbers, but also about knowing and understanding what your organization and your co-workers need & using that information to support your strategic decisions.

♦ Planning and Delivery

- Being organized and motivated as a leader is no doubt important, but being able to plan and deliver for the organization takes the lead.
- The best vision in the world is no good without the plan to turn it into reality.

♦ Persuasion and Influence

- ▶ Finally, one particular area of communicating that is especially important for leaders is being able to persuade and influence others.

❖ People Management

- ▶ Without followers, there are no leaders. Leaders therefore need skills in working with others on a one-to-one and group basis.
- ▶ They need a range of tools in their armory to deal with a wide range of situations.
- ▶ One of the first skills that new leaders need to master is how to delegate.
- ▶ Leaders and managers both need to understand how to build and manage a team. They need to know how to recruit effectively, and bring people 'on board'.
- ▶ They also need to understand the importance of performance management, and to manage poor performance.

❖ Change Management

- ▶ A leader needs to understand change management, to lead an organization.
- ▶ For example, one particular element of change management is innovation. Good leader should know how to innovate and encourage innovation in others.
- ▶ In Covid-19 situation everything has become digitalized and is online.

A leader demonstrates skills of :

- ▶ Teamwork
- ▶ Problem Solving
- ▶ Planning and Organizing
- ▶ Learning
- ▶ Technology
- ▶ Communication

Communication skills demonstrated by a leader:

- ▶ Listening and understanding information
- ▶ Speaking clearly and directly
- ▶ Negotiating
- ▶ Establishing your own network within your chosen field of interest
- ▶ Speaking and writing in languages other than English
- ▶ Being able to empathize and understand the needs of others, especially customers

Effective teamwork skills are demonstrated by:

- ▶ Working effectively individually or as a part of a team
- ▶ Working with people of different genders, races, religions or political persuasions
- ▶ Taking different roles in a team
- ▶ Giving constructive criticism.

Problem solving skills are demonstrated by:

- ▶ Developing creative, practical or innovative solutions
- ▶ Applying a range of strategies to problem solving
- ▶ Using mathematics to solve problems
- ▶ Applying a range of problem solving strategies to come up with a solution
- ▶ Testing assumptions or hypothesis
- ▶ Resolving customer complaints satisfactorily

❖ Communication

- ▶ While communication skills are important for everyone, leaders and managers perhaps need them even more. These skills are general interpersonal skills, but successful leaders tend to show high levels of skill when communicating.
- ▶ Good leaders tend to be extremely good listeners, able to listen actively and elicit information by good questioning.
- ▶ They are also likely to show high levels of assertiveness, which enables them to make their point without aggression, but firmly.
- ▶ They know how to build rapport quickly and effectively, to develop good, strong relationships with others, be it peers or subordinates.
- ▶ Leaders also need to know how to give others their views on personal performance in a way that will be constructive rather than destructive, and also hear others' opinions of them.
- ▶ They are effective speakers, equally skilled at getting their point across in a formal presentation or Board meeting, or in an informal meeting or casual corridor conversation.
- ▶ They have also honed their ability to communicate in difficult situations, usually by practice over time.

Empathy

- ▶ Sympathy is a shared feeling, usually of sorrow, pity or compassion for another person. You show concern for another person when you feel sympathy for them.
- ▶ Empathy is the ability to step into someone else's shoes, be aware of their feelings and understand their needs.
- ▶ In the workplace, empathy can show a deep respect for co-workers and show that you care, as opposed to just going by rules and regulations.
- ▶ Empathy is a powerful tool that can be used by leaders and the employees alike.
- ▶ Empathy is stronger than sympathy. It is the ability to put yourself in the place of another and understand someone else's feelings by identifying with them.
- ▶ A 2018 State of Workplace Empathy Study by Businessolver found that 96 percent of employees surveyed believed it was important for their employers to demonstrate empathy. On the other hand, 92 percent thought that empathy remains undervalued.

Psychologist Marcia Reynolds provides 4 ways to build empathy:

1. Be quiet, inside and outside

- ▶ If your brain is constantly going, going, going, it's hard to stop and see and feel what is going on around you in your workplace or elsewhere.
- ▶ You tend to forget your own feelings, let alone the feelings of others.
- ▶ Most people will agree with the old saying that "no one says on their death bed that they wished they'd spent more time at work."
- ▶ So every day, stop and breathe, or take a walk at lunch, just to clear your head. A bit of quiet helps you figure out what you are really thinking and feeling.

2. Fully watch as well as listen

- ▶ Listening isn't just hearing words but seeking to understand. Watching is also critical to building your ability to empathize with other people. Body language can often tell you more about what people think and feel than their words can.
- ▶ To build empathy in the workplace, you need to see your coworkers, bosses and direct reports to help you understand their feelings. When you all work in the same place, and that is easy.
- ▶ Present scenario: How do you build empathy in the workplace if you're all working from home, or your team is spread out across several sites?
- ▶ Using video conferencing instead of just teleconferencing can help you watch and listen to your colleagues. Some people resist the idea of video conferencing because they don't feel comfortable on camera. That's understandable, but that discomfort can help everyone understand each other better.
- ▶ Your tone of voice is also critical, and speaking with one another instead of communicating exclusively by email, text, or other messaging services can help you build empathy.
- ▶ This is because you understand what your coworker thinks and feels. Or at least you understand their feelings a bit better.

3. Ask yourself what you are feeling

- ▶ Wait, wasn't this about building empathy towards others? Yes, but you need to understand your feelings if you want to understand the feelings of others.
- ▶ When you stop and think, "How would you feel right after you get a new, big assignment or a promotion?" and if the answer is, "excited and overwhelmed," then you can apply that to others around you.
- ▶ When you know that you'll feel overwhelmed by a new challenge, you can make a good guess that another person would feel overwhelmed too.
- ▶ As you become more adept at understanding your own feelings, you'll get better at understanding the feelings of the people around you.
- ▶ Not everyone experiences the same feelings at the same issues as you do, though, so act carefully, which leads to step four.

4. Test your instinct

- ▶ There's a reason this is step four and not step one. You don't want to just walk up to people and say, "Hey, I bet you're angry at your low raise." That remark will not go over well.

- ▶ Just like you, Jane received a new, labor-intensive project. You've examined your feelings after getting a similar assignment, and you felt overwhelmed and excited about it. You want to test if Jane is feeling the same way.
- ▶ Why do you need to know how she is feeling? If it's just nosiness, forget it.
- ▶ You can approach Jane, "Wow, Jane, I just heard you got the new xyz project. That's huge. I would feel overwhelmed by that, but also excited about the growth opportunities. How are you feeling?"
- ▶ Note that you are not saying, "Wow. You must be simultaneously excited and overwhelmed!" You are telling her your feelings and waiting for her to tell you hers. She may or may not feel like sharing. She may or may not know exactly how she is feeling.

Regardless of her response,
you should be there to support your coworker.

- ▶ If she responds that she is excited and overwhelmed, congratulate her on her next step up the career ladder. Offer her any help that you can give.
- ▶ If she says, "Nah, I did a project almost exactly like this at my last job. This will be a piece of cake," then say, "Wow, awesome. No wonder they gave it to you. You'll be able to do it with your eyes closed."

What traits/behaviors distinguish someone as empathetic?

- ▶ Empathetic people listen attentively to what you're telling them, putting their complete focus on the person in front of them and not getting easily distracted.
- ▶ They spend more time listening than talking because they want to understand the difficulties others face, all of which helps to give those around them the feeling of being heard and recognized.

Words and phrases that show empathy:

- You're making total sense.
- I understand how you feel.
- I just feel such despair in you when you talk about this.
- I can feel the pain you feel.
- The world needs to stop when you're in this much pain.
- I wish you didn't have to go through that.

What distinguishes average to mediocre leaders from those who excel?

- ▶ Overall, when you use empathy in the workplace, you can understand your coworkers better. This means that you can function more as a team. And that's great for any business or organization.
- ▶ A famous quote by Theodore Roosevelt:
"Nobody cares how much you know until they know how much you care."

Changing work culture

- ▶ Culture is changing at the speed of technology and society. That's why, in 2020, companies are discovering new ways to address culture issues and create workplaces that help people thrive.
  - ▶ The way we work shifted dramatically overnight. In Q1 of 2020, the global COVID-19 pandemic hit. Businesses and their employees are being forced to change how they work in major ways.
  - ▶ While most employees were shifted to working remotely, many are left working on the front lines with new social distancing requirements.
- ❖ How will employees adapt to this change in work environment, process, and roles?
  - ❖ How can organizations help employees be calm, productive, and healthy?
- ▶ Ensuring employees are safe at work, giving them access to the tools and resources they need to do their jobs, prioritizing employee wellbeing, and communicating honestly, accurately, and frequently.

- ▶ Video communication from senior leaders nearly doubled. The number of flexible leave policies increased 95%.
- ▶ This year, the World Health Organization classified 'burnout' as an official syndrome related to "chronic workplace stress that has not been successfully managed."
- ▶ The O.C. Tanner Institute's 2020 Global Culture Report found that 79% of employees are suffering from some sort of burnout at work; 40% of those report moderate to severe burnout.
- ▶ Burnout affects everyone, regardless of age, role, industry, or tenure. It's not just doctors and nurses who are burning out—employees in all industries, Millennials and Boomers, blue collar and white-collar workers are doing more with less and feeling an increasing amount of stress.
- ▶ Poor workplace cultures lead to a 157% increase in moderate to severe burnout.

So what can organizations do?

Improved office culture

Ways to Improve your office culture

Align your office culture with your company's goals

- ▶ First try to identify the kind of environment you hope to encourage at work.
- ▶ Do you need your employees to wear a suit and tie into the office all week, or is every day "casual Friday?"
- ▶ Make sure that the culture you're building actively benefits the overall goals of your business. Be transparent with your team about what the company is trying to accomplish – and how.

Help your team get on the same page.

- ▶ Are your company goals as clear to your employees as they are to you?
- ▶ Your core values should reflect the day-to-day mission of your business to the more lofty, long-term goals of your company.
- ▶ Employees who see their own beliefs mirrored in the company's mission will feel more motivated and satisfied in their role.

Embrace transparency.

- ▶ Culture is made up of things that are hard to see, but that doesn't mean the way your employees feel in the office should be invisible to management.
- ▶ Encourage a culture that values sharing and encourages problem solving. That is crucial to building trust, balance and productivity among your team.
- ▶ Similarly, employees should be provided with an avenue to interact with management and privately air concerns.
- ▶ Allow employees to share their personalities, stories and inspirations.
- ▶ largely, general employees have a different day-to-day experience at work than middle or senior management, providing unique and insightful perspectives that management doesn't always see.

Learn to say "thank you" (and teach your employees to do the same).

- ▶ Showing gratitude isn't just a trend, it's incredibly beneficial. Studies show that a simple "thank you" goes a long way in making people feel listened to, respected and valued.
- ▶ Sending a thank you note to an employee who has gone above-and-beyond or successfully finished a particularly challenging project is an easy way to make your employees know that their work matters and is valuable to you.

Acknowledge that your employees have lives outside the office.

- ▶ Encourage employees to have a positive work-life balance by promoting personal and family time.
- ▶ Encourage the development of interests outside of the office and offering wellness activities and continuing education.

Seek out employee feedback.

- ▶ Having quarterly interviews and one-on-ones not only make employees feel that their inputs matter, but also help you gauge what changes to the office environment could be made.

Don't be shy about treating your staff.

- ▶ Work shouldn't be a place where a person loses their individuality.
- ▶ Regular acknowledgements, personalized birthday gifts, celebrating their unique achievements can let employees know their work is noticed and appreciated. Impromptu staff lunches and catered breakfasts are great ways to show your entire staff that you appreciate their hard work and loyalty.
- ▶ People want to be employed in an environment where their efforts are acknowledged and rewarded. It's never a bad time say thank you to your employees that work hard in order to make your organization the best it can be.

Communicate Often

- ▶ Keep employees in the loop. Let them know what the company is working on.
- ▶ Be honest about when things go well and especially when they don't. Transparency and accessibility ensure that employees trust the direction that the company is going in.
- ▶ Establishing open lines of communication makes employees feel like part of a bigger picture and encourages them to contribute to the overall success of the business.
- ▶ One easy way to improve communication is by encouraging the use of collaborative tools and software in the workplace. Applications like Skype, Google meet, etc., Allow employees to quickly share important information to entire groups at the press of a button.

Recognize Achievements

- ▶ Like flexibility, recognition has also been proven to reduce employee turnover.
- ▶ Acknowledging the effort that employees put into their work is an easy way to boost morale. Draw attention, identify, and reward the right behaviors as often as possible.
- ▶ Consider offering concrete rewards like food, prizes, and other rewards of credit to further recognize employees for all of their hard work.

- Interpersonal Skills: 10 Common Communication Mistakes.
- Career Skills: Holland's Codes.
- Career Skills: Core Self Evaluations

Learning Outcomes

- Avoid communication blunders and misunderstandings.
- Be able to choose the right career based upon personality.

Key take-away.....

- Core Self evaluation worksheet.
- Holland Code Career Test.
- How good are your communication skills.
(https://www.mindtools.com/pages/article/newCS\_99.htm)

10 Common Communication Mistakes

Mistake 1: Not editing your work.

Spelling, tone and grammatical mistakes can make you look careless. It is essential to check all your communications before you send them.

Tip: Do not rely on spell-checkers, they won't pick up words that are used incorrectly. Instead proof read your work, and use a dictionary to look up any words that you are unsure about.

Mistake 2: Delivering Bad News By Email.

Written communication channels don't allow you to soften difficult message with nonverbal cues such as body language.

Tip: Always better that you call for a face to face meeting. The meeting should be held in private.

Mistake 3: Avoiding Difficult Conversations.

Avoiding difficult conversations is very tempting. Such as if you want to give negative feedback to someone. It may cause future problems.

Tip: Learn to give clear, concise and actionable feedback.

Mistake 4: Not Being Assertive.

Assertiveness is about stating what you need while considering the wants and needs of others.

Tip: Say a polite 'no' when you need to.

Mistake 5: Reacting, Not Responding.

Have you ever shouted at a colleague in frustration , or sent a terse reply to an email, without thinking your point through? If so, you have acted emotionally.

Remember, this kind of emotional reaction can damage your reputation.

Tip: You must know how to manage your emotions at work.

Mistake 6: Not Preparing Thoroughly.

Poorly prepared presentations, reports or emails frustrate your audience and can, over time, damage your reputation. This is why it's essential to prepare and plan your communications carefully.

Tip: Do a thorough rehearsal before you finally present.

Mistake 7: Using a "One-Size-Fits-All" Approach to Communication.

If you use a "one-size-fits-all" approach to communication, you may overlook people's different personalities, needs and expectations. In fact, your communications need to address those differences as much as possible.

Tip: If you're preparing a presentation, make sure that you appreciate that people have different learning styles, and that you cater for these.

Mistake 8: Not Keeping an Open Mind When Meeting New People.

Today's workplace is a melting pot of ethnicities, religions, ages, sexual orientations, abilities, and viewpoints.

Tip: Set time aside to listen when you meet someone new.

Mistake 9: Assuming That Your Message Has Been Understood.

Always take time to check that people have understood your message. For example, when you send out an email, you could encourage people to respond with questions or to reply, if they haven't understood part of your message.

Tip: To check that you've been understood correctly, use open questions that start with "how," "why" or "what." These encourage reflection, and will help your audience members to explain what they, personally, have taken from your communication.

Mistake 10: Accidentally Violating Others' Privacy.

Have you ever forwarded a sensitive email to the wrong person, or sent an incorrect attachment? These kinds of errors can cause serious problems, violate people's privacy, and lead to embarrassment and confusion.

Tip1: Write sensitive messages before you select the recipient, and then double check their email address.

Tip2: You may find it helpful to draft these emails in a word processing document or blank email, and then to paste the text into a new message. This way you won't accidentally include any information from previous messages.

Career Skills: Holland's Codes.

What are Holland's Codes?

- Named after academic Psychologists Dr. John Holland.
- It is a way of classifying people according to their interests so that they can be matched with appropriate careers.

How can I use Holland codes to choose the right career?

Holland codes help you match what you like to do with appropriate careers. To figure out which careers will suit you, you first must understand your own interest profile.

You can do so by taking a Holland Code assessment. Then, once you have your scores in each of the six interest areas, you can do a search to find careers that match your top interests.

What are the six interest areas?

Interest Area	Description	Holland Code
Building	Use of tools, machines, or physical skills. Like working with hands.	R EALISTIC
Thinking	Involves research, theory building, academia.	I nvestigative
Creating	Involves art, music, language and self expression	A rtistic
Helping	Assisting, teaching, social work	S ocial
Persuading	Leading, motivating, influencing others	E nterprising
Organizing	Managing data, information and process.	C onventional

Takeaway: Holland Code Career Test.

Career Skills: Core Self Evaluations.

What Are Core Self Evaluations?

Core self-evaluations are instinctive judgments that we all make about ourselves and our lives. CSE have a direct impact on how well we do at work, and how we feel about our work. They can also give us a more accurate picture of ourselves, so that we "play to our strengths."

People can have high and low CSE, but we can improve our CSE, to boost both our performance and our well-being.

The Four Dimensions of Core Self Evaluations.

Locus of Control (External vs. Internal)

If you tend to think that outside forces are in control of your life, you have what psychologists call an "external locus of control ." But, if you believe that you're in control, you have an "internal locus of control" – and that's often more helpful, because you'll be more satisfied with the role you play and the work you do.

The Four Dimensions of Core Self Evaluations.

Neuroticism

In terms of CSE, neuroticism refers to how well you can control unwanted emotions such as anxiety and anger . If you rate highly for this (that is, you have a low level of neuroticism), you'll likely be good at cope with pressure. People with low ratings (high neuroticism), however, are more likely to worry, to suffer from low moods, and to experience feelings of helplessness, at work and beyond.

The Four Dimensions of Core Self Evaluations.

Self Efficacy

Self-efficacy is about how confident you feel in a variety of situations.

Adaptability, Flexibility and Resiliency.

The Four Dimensions of Core Self Evaluations.

Self Esteem

High self-esteem is linked with having a positive outlook, coping well with setbacks, and expecting high standards, from yourself and others.

❖ Communication

- While communication skills are important for everyone, managers perhaps need them even more. These skills are interpersonal skills, but successful leaders tend to show high levels of skill when communicating.
- Good leaders tend to be extremely good listeners, able to actively and elicit information by good questioning.
- They are also likely to show high levels of assertiveness, which enables them to make their point without aggression, but firmly.
- They know how to build rapport quickly and effectively, to form good, strong relationships with others, be it peers or subordinates.
- Leaders also need to know how to give others their views on personal performance in a way that will be constructive rather than destructive, and also hear others' opinions of them.
- They are effective speakers, equally skilled at getting their point across in a formal presentation or Board meeting, or in an informal meeting or casual corridor conversation.
- They have also honed their ability to communicate in difficult situations, usually by practice over time.

Trainings facilitated during corporate career

Training Name	Publisher Name	Synopsis	Target Audience	Other Details
Leading With Purpose (LwP)	Allstate Corporation	LwP is a half day program that introduces employees into the leadership principles. The corporation created the “shared purpose” approach through the Leadership Principles. Everyone is a leader was the underlying theme of this approach.	All Employees	This was a cultural transformation led by specially trained change Champions (CC) who was selected carefully from the employee segment.
Energy For Life (EFL)	Human performance Institute Division Of Wellness & Prevention, 2011	EFL is a blended learning program with both online and classroom components, in which the objective is to help employees fully engaged in whatever they do. It targets each of the 4 levels in a pyramid- Physical, Mental, Emotional, and Spiritual. The participants of this program learn many useful energy management technology principles. This program brings a paradigm shift thinking-from managing time to managing one's energy

Brief Personal Biography

A.H. Sagar is a Political, Moral, Educational Philosopher, an International Educationalist, Researcher and a National Sports Person. He is a multidisciplinary in the true sense of the term. He has worked with some of the greatest Philosophers, Scientists and Educationalists on the Planet. Along with many years of teaching experience in schools, colleges and universities, he even gained a post graduate degree in English while he was in India. Later, his passion for research took him to the University of Edinburgh, wherein he pursued MSc in Education and Educational Philosophy. That's where he was formally introduced to Analytic Philosophy. After the completion of his MSc in Edinburgh, he moved to London and joined the prestigious University College London (UCL). Which stands first in the World University Ranking for research in the Department of Education. He studied Philosophy of Science, Social Science, and Humanities at UCL and started his research in Education and Human Brain/Mind. His breadth and depth of knowledge spanning across Education, Philosophy, Linguistics, History, Economics, Politics, Biology, Ethics, Engineering and Foreign policy is just fascinating. His energetic as well as inspiring lectures and training workshops are quite renowned. His critical and rational analysis of research problems are thought provoking. Being well known for his wit and humour, he is always dearly loved by his students. So far he has delivered around 515 lectures around the world by invitation, on various topics from the academic spectrum of Science, Social Science and Humanities in schools, colleges as well as universities. He had appeared in various television interviews. In his training workshops for teachers, professors, principals, parents, academicians and policy makers, he tries his best to raise awareness among them. He is a national basketball player and he also uses sports as a medium to inspire students while coaching them. He usually says that he gained a lot of his energy, courage and confidence by being in sports. Being a lifelong learner, he says, the more he learns, he realises, how little he knows.
